The Humanis Image has changed from the creation of the Humanis Manifesto to the present. In the year and some odd months that have passed the golden gauntlet of Humanis has been turned black and the field of white has been replaced with red.

Like any flag or crest the Humanis Image or Humanis Crest has meaning behind its design.

The black gauntlet raised into the air represents the need for struggle and power in general. Hoisted in salute or anger. It is the punishing blow to our enemies.

The sun represents the coming dawn, a new age of hope and prosperity where darkness has no place.

The field of red is a representation of the purity of Human blood as well as a sign of understanding that the spilling of blood is inevitable in the conflict to raise ourselves back to the supreme lords of Sosaria.

BIRTH OF THE HAND OF HUMANIS

Alas an entire guild has taken up the cause of humanity and converted wholly to Humanis. The Humanis Voice would like to congratulate the former Order of Dark Souls for taking the step towards its newest incarnation 'The Hand of Humanis' Artero Kingston has found wisdom in the Manifesto of the Human Nation and undoubtedly will propel his order to greatness under the Humanis banner. The Hand of Humanis is swelling daily with new recruits, soon a proud army of humans will stand against elven deceit, orcish incursions and dwarven slavery! A champion has risen to lift the banner of humanity even higher, the world will see the power of Humanis!

Artero Kingston in his wisdom has formulated a way to allow non-humans into the order. All non-humans within the Hand of Humanis are made to swear an oath to uphold the Humanis ways. The non-humans join the ranks of racial betrayers after a test of loyalty. Thus the Hand of Humanis allows for race traitors to side with the true race, humanity.

People of Sosaria the ideology that had begun as a three man operation has grown into a formidable force. The initial seeds of humanis have sprung into a mighty forest, woe to those who stand against us for our vengeance is at hand.

ELVES IN MINOC

What a terrible blow to humanity. The elves have taken Minoc Trammel and instituted a pretend democracy. Having been gifted the land by their close friends in the Regency the elves chose to grab the property without holding open elections for the position. Perhaps they knew that the human population of Minoc would not stand to be ruled by a minority?

Having sunk their serpent fangs into Minoc the snakes began to institute insane laws. These laws and ideas which they brought up are so foreign that they are nearly impossible to grasp. Among such laws was to have Minoc, a town known for its metals and blacksmiths to disarm itself. The elves proposed to remove all weapons from the hands of the citizens making them in effect under the military power of the significantly weak bodied elves. Such a move would have no doubt removed a significant percentage of the city's workers and would have sent the population into poverty. Perhaps this is what the elves wanted?

And now they dare impose laws on the minerals that belong to humans by right? Setting guide lines to follow for miners and smelters?

We urge you, our fine readers and brothers to take up arms and help set our race free from the elven capture of Minoc! There is no need to make Minoc Trammel into what Minoc Fellucia has become, a cesspool of non-human filth. A spawning ground for decadent creatures.
